Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator

You never thought of tracing that last spell of sickness to your refrigerator, did you? And yet it is quite possible that the blame should be placed right there. Suppose you go right now and examine your refrigerator.

Just small inside of it. Germs throw off a gas while digesting the grease which you have wiped into the scratches in the white enamel, into holes made for self supports and other cracks and crevices, or left on the uncleanable galvanized iron, and this gas is that horrible smell, but the product of their digestion is a ptomaine a deadly poison. Then think of the riding, made a bee line for the stable, being in his own stall before the rider had picked himself up. Paint won out, and wasn't dragged back to the game.

Frank Baldwin scored the first goal of the period, and then Millikin, in an attempt to turn the ball, sent it through his own goal for a Green score. Baldwin put the ball out of play after time had been called by scoring again.

The sixth and last period saw Hanson in the game in place of Millikin, and Sam Baldwin with the referee's whistle. Castle made a goal with two sensational lofted shots, and Rice made the last score of the game off a pretty centering shot by Dillingham. Final score, All Hawaii 11, Cavalry 1. No penalties were recorded.

Showing Encouraging

The stick work of all the Greens was good, but probably it was Harold Castle's turn to star in this particular respect. His quick turns were features, and he was on the ball all the time, at the same time playing a less independent game than he usually does. Arthur Rice played his position well, and seemed able to combine aggressive riding off with time by hitting. Frank Baldwin, right off the ocean, played a remarkably strong and conservative game at back. It is a position that he doesn't like and he deserves double credit for playing it so unselfishly. Captain Walter Dillingham played his usual crafty No. 3. From that position he can hold his team together, exchange with back, and feed his forwards as well as any player I ever saw. His centering shots are getting better all the time.

As to the Cavalry, it must be said that neither men nor ponies have had any practice since the inter-lal tournament. All the players were considerably below form Saturday and were also playing strange positions, and the genuine interest that they are taking in giving the locals a change to play together, is much appreciated by the latter.

One more game will be played between the two teams, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Lohela being the time and place.

best ever staged here, and if this men can be brought together again the fans will be in favor of a return match. The next time, though it should be a straight proposition as to coin, for Bowers showed Saturday night that he is too good a fighter for Madison to concede advantages to. Both men were showed that he could make 150 ring-side, and still be strong.

The Preliminaries.

The first preliminary, between King, of Schofield Barracks, and Layman, of Fort De Russy, was about as brief as a fashionable bathing suit. In just about fifty seconds after the opening gong sounded Dr. Birch, who refereed both preliminaries, was sawing the air over Layman's prostrate form. The latter took several minutes to come out of dreamland.

The second go an 8-round affair between Pilschek, of Schofield, and "Tex" Seiman of the navy, was a very good exhibition. Seiman had the height and reach but "Phyke" as the ringiders soon christened the fighter with the unpronounceable name, had the aggressiveness, although he was not in the best of shape. He was substituted on three days notice, and every time he came back to his corner he bewailed the fact that he wasn't fit. At that the soldier was the more of the two, and the worst he should possibly have been given was slipped and slid trying to grab them; Suddarth was sent to the slab for Kidd after the damage had been done. He showed some pretty little curves and considerable speed, but shone best in fielding his position.

The soldiers saved a shutout, by getting an unearned run scored. Edwards, the catcher, had worked around as far as third base. Pitcher Apau turned loose a half-bat motion toward the plate that drew Edwards off the bag. Instead of throwing to the plate, Apau shot the ball to third, and Edwards was caught flat-footed four feet away. Then Lal Tin attempted to run him down as he dashed for home. Lal Tin is close to a ten-second man in the hundred and thought he could get the soldier, but he couldn't. Edwards was almost home when Lal Tin found this out and threw to Kan Yen to head him off. The throw was made when both men were on top of the little Chinese catcher—Edward, in fact, diving for the ball—and Kan Yen dropped it, the soldier scoring the only tally for Schofield.

two yards, and on the next down Brash was rushed back for a small loss. Brash then made a good gain of fifteen yards, and on the next down Cassidy reeled off six more yards. Brash again took the ball for a gain of seven yards and on the second down Melin carried it two yards further. Then Brash was carried back for a loss of a yard, and the whistle blew for the end of the third quarter, the score still remaining 14-9 in favor of the Townies.

The ball went into play on the Town's twenty-yard line in possession of the Highs on their first down. Brash took the pigskin around left end for a gain of two yards. A fake punt in the shape of a pass was made and the ball was received by Paty who advanced it ten yards before being tackled by Jiro. A fumble on the part of the Town Team resulted in the recovery of the ball by the Highs. Brash was called and took the ball through right tackle for a gain of six yards. On the second down Cassidy went through center but was tackled by Barnhart and only succeeded in making a gain of two yards. The ball was then given to Jiro who got through for seven yards and on the fourth down Melin broke loose and ran for ten yards with the oval. First down again. Brash and Melin carried the ball for gains of four yards each on the first and second downs, and then Melin dodged through left guard for a touchdown. Crozier failed to kick goal, making the score 14-6 in favor of the Townies. For the first time during the game the Townies kicked to the Highs, the ball being received by Melin on the ten-yard line who advanced it sixteen yards. On the first down Melin took the ball through left tackle for a gain of five yards and on the second Brash was unable to break through the line. An incomplete pass was the next feature and then Cassidy punted out, the ball being received by Aldrich for a fair catch, on the forty-yard line. On the first down Rosa was given the ball and went through the line for a gain of one and a half yards. Aldrich went through left guard for a couple of yards more, and on the next down Belentyne was unable to gain any ground. On the fourth down Aldrich got through for two yards. Rosa then made a pass and the ball was received by Cassidy. On the High's first down Cassidy punted and the ball was received by Paty on the Townies' thirty-yard line, who advanced it seven yards before falling into the clutches of the speedy Jiro. On the Town's first down C. Hoogs was sent through for a gain of four yards and the game MCKINLEY GAAL 333.....MC ended with the score of 14-8 in favor of the Town Team.

NOTES OF THE CHINESE SOLDIER GAME

"Big Chief" Akana was very much to the good Saturday. Besides reeling off the hit that got Pitcher Kidd's goat he made a wonderful catch in left field. With two men on bases—second and third—a soldier drove a high, twisting fly to short left, almost back of third base. Akana had been playing deep. To get the ball he had to run across a lot of heavy soil. He made a great effort and nailed the ball. Both of the runners were almost home by the time he caught the ball and if he had missed two runs would have scored. As it was, he retired the side.

Pitcher Apau pulled off a great bit of fielding during the game. One of the soldiers sent a slow, twisting, bouncer to the box. Apau stepped forward to get it, slipped in the wet dirt and sat down. Sitting down, he picked up the ball, took careful aim and got it to first the fraction of a second ahead of the soldier. Two men were on bases, and a wild throw would have let both home.

The Schofield team is a better aggregation than yesterday's score seems to show. The soldiers were all at sea because of the muddy grounds. They are used to dry diamonds.

Umpires LaMera and Johnny Nolley got along all right, although the crowd was disposed to yell over every decision. The mistakes weren't noticeable.

Bladen, the visitors' shortstop, played a stellar game. He is said to be slated for the Vernon team of the Coast League next year.

The last two innings of the game were played in the dusk. In order to end it right, the Chinese closed with a speedy double play.

Apau scooped up a lot of hard chances at shortstop.

En Sue made two nice catches in center field.
